

Prompts

The new wiki format means that related content should be navigable from many directions. As you visit the site please consider the following questions:

- Was the content easy to find?
- Is the content consistent with your current understanding or practice?
 - If no, please forward corrections with references in support your proposed change (where possible).
- Does the content require further explanation for improved clarity?
 - Would it benefit from an additional diagram/math etc.?
- Is the content very sparse?
 - We have priotized some subjects over others, and the whole site remains a work in progress.
- Is there another subject which is the wiki should address?
 - Are you offering to outline a short article on this subject?
